A WORLD-CLASS AIR FORCE

CAPABILITY

The Royal Australian Air Force is an internationally respected organisation equipped with some of the most advanced aircraft and air defence technology in use anywhere. Become a member of this formidable defensive force and you'll join over 18,000 expertly trained personnel working in the air or in ground support roles.

ACTIVITY

The Air Force has a broad remit at home and overseas. Our core purpose is the defence of our nation, our people, our values and our way of life, through the provision of intelligence, strike capability and air mobility. We also support international security initiatives, carry out search and rescue missions and help communities affected by natural disasters.

DIVERSITY

All Australians are invited to consider Air Force careers, regardless of their gender, ethnic origin or cultural background. We believe this approach brings a unique blend of skills, strengths and knowledge to our operations.

EQUALITY

Women in the Air Force receive exactly the same salaries, training, vocational development and promotion opportunities as men. We recognise that recruitment, rewards and career advancement should be based on potential, effort and achievement, regardless of gender.

REASONS TO JOIN

CHALLENGING AND REWARDING WORK
IN A VARIETY OF DYNAMIC ENVIRONMENTS
IS JUST THE START. IN THE AIR FORCE
YOU'LL ENJOY MANY OTHER BENEFITS TOO,
SOME OF WHICH ARE RARELY FOUND IN COMPARABLE CIVILIAN ROLES.

CAREER BENEFITS

- Potential for degree sponsorship
- World-class management training
- Free flying training for aircrew roles
- Ongoing education and development

FINANCIAL BENEFITS

- A good salary plus allowances
- Generous superannuation
- Free medical and dental
- Subsidised accommodation

LIFESTYLE BENEFITS

All that plus memorable experiences such as participating in military exercises, humanitarian operations, peacekeeping initiatives and disaster-relief activities at home and overseas.

 'AIR FORCE BENEFITS'

YOUR LIFE IN THE AIR FORCE

FORGET THE TRADITIONAL NOTION OF A 'WORKPLACE'. AIR FORCE BASES ARE PLACES OF EXCITEMENT, INNOVATION AND VARIETY, AND THEY OFFER A RANGE OF SOCIAL AND SPORTING FACILITIES TO HELP YOU RELAX AND ENJOY YOUR LIFE OUTSIDE OF WORKING HOURS.

A GOOD BALANCE

Whatever role you choose, your working hours can be much like those of any comparable civilian job. As you would expect, deployments require more flexibility and that's part of their appeal. But in general, the Air Force seeks to provide all officers with a good balance between duties and personal life.

SOCIAL FACILITIES

You and your friends are sure to spend plenty of your spare time in the Officers' Mess, the focal point of social activity on every air base. You'll find the food on base is excellent too, with wholesome and plentiful meals and special dietary needs happily catered for.

FREE SPORTS AND FITNESS FACILITIES

Being paid to stay fit is a real perk of Air Force life, and in work time rather than your own. Most air bases feature multi-code sports fields and excellent fitness facilities, and you'll be able to join teams playing just about anything you want to, along with clubs catering for a variety of hobbies.

LIFELONG FRIENDSHIPS

The team environment of the Air Force fosters amazing friendships, strengthened through exciting shared experiences. Your regular working hours will give you plenty of opportunity to get out and about with friends outside the Air Force too.

 'AIR FORCE LIFESTYLE'

*I had a dream

A person in a green military flight suit is shown from the waist down, standing over a table. They are pointing with a blue marker at a large, detailed map spread out on the table. The map features various geographical features, including coastlines, rivers, and numerous small labels. The person's hands are visible, and they are wearing a black wristwatch on their left wrist. The background is slightly blurred, showing other parts of the flight suit and the table.

AIR COMBAT OFFICER (MISSION AIRCREW)

Operate some of the most sophisticated electronic systems and sensors in use today, making mission-critical command decisions in either an airborne or ground-based role.

Following training you'll progress into one of three streams, employed in maritime operations (e.g. search and rescue), air battle management (e.g. surveillance and control), or the exhilarating world of fighter aircraft. You'll receive and interpret intelligence and work in parallel with Pilots to carry out a wide-variety of operational missions.

ENTRY METHODS	OE	ADFA	DUS	GRAD	RES
---------------	----	------	-----	------	-----

AIR TRAFFIC CONTROLLER (MISSION CONTROLLER)

Command the skies, carrying out many of the responsibilities of a civilian Air Traffic Controller but with challenging extra dimensions unique to battlefield aerial environments.

You'll be in charge of the movements of both military and civilian aircraft in domestic environments. Then, in battlefield situations, your responsibilities will extend to ADF and coalition aircraft including unmanned aircraft. Using high-tech sensors and satellite technology you will conduct surveillance operations and shape defence missions.

PILOT

Upgrade your flying ambition to the Air Force, taking control of one of the fastest and most manoeuvrable aircraft in the world, transporting troops and supplies to disaster zones, or carrying out covert surveillance missions.

Whichever route you take, you'll be fully trained in your role, paid to learn to fly, and achieve captaincy far faster than with civilian pilot training. You'll enjoy an exceptionally exciting and highly responsible job and experience a wide variety of deployments flying advanced military aircraft.
